N. B.

As this catalogue will be sent to many new collectors who may be unacquainted with the Public Auction system (no connection with the fake "Mail Auctions"), the following remarks may be instructive.

1. — The sizes quoted are by the old tried and easily understood "American Scale," 1-16 of an inch—thus size 24 is  $1\frac{1}{2}$  inches diameter. The U. S. Mint uses this scale in preference to the metric.

2. — The term "Mint" used by some cataloguers for a coin's condition means nothing, and a cataloguer cannot be held responsible for anything it is applied to, no matter what the reader may think it should mean.

3. — We use Proof, Uncirculated, Very fine, Fine, Very good. Good. Very fair. Fair, Poor; as descriptive terms readily understood by any prospective buyer.

4. — All descriptions, as well as the genuineness of the articles described are hereby guaranteed. We are responsible for all errors.

5. — All coins or other goods are sold per piece, no lot ever divided; a lot containing 20 pieces for which you are willing to pay $2, you should bid 10 cents each. Exceptions, Proof sets or others specified as "per lot."

6. — Place your highest bids and trust your Commissioner to buy as cheaply as possible. If you cannot trust him don't bid, or send to the Auctioneer.

[Regret to be unable to include the St. Louis Fair Gold Dollars, but the ridiculous price of $3 asked for them by the Committee prevents any sensible man from investing in them. Were they worth $3, the commonest of the foregoing should sell for $50, in proportion to the quantity existing of the St. Louis brand.]

United States Cents.

In placing the "Nova Constellatio" Cents at the head of the series, I do so after a thorough examination and weighing of the supposed evidence of Mr. Bushnell as quoted by Mr. Crosby. No English die work bears any resemblance to anything found on these Cents. British public sentiment in 1783 would not have tolerated the assistance in supplying a good currency to the successful Revolutionists. The work, lettering, figures and coinage all bear evidence of their American origin, as well as Governmental supervision, even if they were produced by contract, as were the "Fugios." Their similarity to the coins designed and projected by Robt. Morris, of this date, would certainly make it impossible for a foreign producer to fill a large order and deliver it by the snail-like processes then in vogue and have designs so uniform in style with the private coiners of America, as shown by other well-known experimental coins. These surely are to be known as the first United States coins.
